Dear Parents,

Summer vacation is almost here! We hope that you make it a time to REST, RELAX, READ, but above all ENJOY!

Reading, like a sport, involves practice and skill. Real skill building occurs when children read for pleasure, when children read “just right” books (not too easy and not too hard), and when they can explore books about topics that interest them. The more they practice with someone’s encouragement, suggestions, and praise, the better and more confident readers they will become.

Here are some tips to encourage reading:

Set aside a regular family reading and/or read aloud time.

Read to your children, even the older ones.

Recognize that your child’s own choice and interests are important ingredients toward your reading enjoyment.

Let your child see you reading for pleasure.

Don’t forget to pack a book wherever you go this summer.

Participate in activities at the local library

Learn more about children’s books, from your child’s friends, from the local library, or from the attached lists

Summer Reading Requirement for Entering 4th Grade

Dear Soon-to-be-Fourth-Graders and Parents,

“Summer reading is an important component of an overall reading program. Research shows that summer vacation often has a significant negative effect on student learning. Providing opportunities for students to read regularly during the summer can prevent documented reading achievement losses. The bottom line is that students who read during the summer do better in the fall.”¹

The fourth grade teachers, along with our administrators, want our students to continue to grow academically over the summer. We all believe that one component to help implement this task is a mandatory summer reading assignment. The fourth grade reading teacher has chosen different books from quality authors in a variety of genres. Your child should read one of these books over the summer and complete the corresponding Accelerated Reader comprehension test.

Mandatory Reading Book List

- Fourth Grade Rats by Jerry Spinelli
- Geronimo Stilton Books
- Any book from Jake Drake Series by Andrew Clements
- Any book by Beverly Cleary
 - ie: Henry Huggins, Ramona Quimby, Ribsy
- Any reading selection from the I Survived Series

AR Requirement

If your child chooses to read the book during the months of June or July and would like to take the AR test, I would highly recommend that s/he takes the test very soon after completing the book. If your child chooses to read the book in August and would like to take the AR test, I would recommend waiting until later in the month because your child will have to wait to test until the first day of school. Your child must score an 80% or better in order for the test to count. If your child scores lower they must be prepared to take a second AR test when they return to school.
